Comments / Suggestions

I was impressed with how well the students responded to some of the questions. I thought some of the words were too difficult for elementary school students. I think a lot of the students had no idea how to begin some of the questions. They probably would have been better and more creative with their sentences if they knew what the words were!

I would suggest using easier words.

As for the students, I would like to encourage them to "think outside" of the box. They should think of interesting ways to make sentences and this can be done if they use their imagination to think of a short story or something.
