I liked the second topic about phubbing - very topical!

But I wasn't so sure about the first topic, which examines the nature of female friendships at high school.

Perhaps the male students might find this topic a little boring or might not be able to really write anything meaningful about it. I suggest that topics are chosen that appeal to both sexes!

Jimmy 12/15.

很多學生寫作文時的想法和觀點很雷同，看不出創意。或是結論大同小異。建議多培養學生從不同觀點看題目。(或問題)。培養學生的 critical thinking 應該從高中開始。
同時並不是寫得多就好，重點是要寫之要有內容，有創意。

- Several students wrote a very short composition. These students' performances far lagging behind the rest of the class. I believe these students need special attention to catch up with their peers.

- One student used 「 --- 」 ~~case~~ in English dialogues. His or her Chinese writing ^{habits} has negatively transferred into his/her English composition. I believe that the students should be made aware of the differences in English and Chinese.

- One or two students used bad language or evil ideas in their composition. ^{One student} ~~They~~ used "murders", when ~~mocking~~ ^{mocking} the intelligence level of his classmates'. The other student went even further. He imagined bombing the school and killing his teacher. These evil ideas could be joking or his artistic exaggeration. But I ~~personally~~ found them uncomfortable. Over these years of grading testpapers, I have not come across students who harbored these dangerous thoughts.

圖片可能可以再清楚明確一點。

如第一張圖，有些參賽者以醫院為背景描述，而有些參賽者則寫成其他場景。

本次作文題型是看圖作文。

有些參賽者英文能力不錯，但其內容與圖片的相關性低，
有些參賽者英文能力較弱，但其內容與圖片的相關性卻較高，
這樣的情形造成評分困難。

往後評分標準是否能有較明確的指示，

圖文相關性，是否重要？
