In August 2018, Greta Thunberg started a school strike for the climate outside the Swedish Parliament that has since spread all over the world and now involves over 100,000 schoolchildren. The movement is now called Fridays for Future.

The leader of the school strike, Greta Thunberg, is a 16-year-old Swedish student. According to her, the global climate change which is caused by industrial greenhouse gas emission, will lead us to the end of our world.

"Everyone wants to live in a better world, but no one wants to take action to protect it," she thought. Furthermore, she discovered that all the national authorities around the world do not decrease their greenhouse gas emission. In other words, everyone wants "a change" of the world but no one wants to "make a change" to the world.
 difference

As a result, Thunberg felt both disappointed and angry, she said, "Someone must stand out and take action." From then on, Thunberg decided to dedicate her life to protecting our environment. For her first step, she decided to launch series of school strikes in front of the Swedish Parliament. As time went by, more and more people joined her, even in other countries like the UK and Canada. Without a doubt, she is a hero of the young generation to enhance the eco-friendly awareness.
